Peoples Bank of St. Cloud Opened For Business Tuesday

Farewell Reception to Mrs. Guy S. Morgan Was Brilliant Social Event

Virtually all of St. Cloud's "social" population turned out to the farewell reception held in honor of Mrs. Guy S. Morgan at the New St. Cloud hotel on June 17 (incidentally the third anniversary of her arrival in this city) to show their appreciation of the good work done by that public-spirited lady since her arrival here.

Mrs. Morgan has taken a prominent part in every social entertainment of any importance held since her advent here, and she has also worked indefatigably in the interests of the younger element of our citizens, with whom she is a prime favorite.

Among the many good deeds done by her is the number of community Christmas trees, the trip around the world, the county fair (the latter for the benefit of the Red Cross fund), and the maypole dance recently performed at the Peckham residence—in all of which she took the most prominent part, especially in training the performers and supplying and directing the music for all.

The hotel was elegantly decorated with flowers and ribbons for Tuesday evening's event, under the supervision of a committee comprising Mrs. John B. Somerville, Mrs. L. D. Frost, Mrs. J. K. Conn, Mrs. O. L. Buckmaster, and Mrs. M. Puckett-Foster.

The entertainment was opened with a piano overture by Mrs. Buckmaster, and Mrs. J. K. Conn, which was followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. Sam Brammer and a selection by the Kazoo Band (performed by the Westerner Circle, the latter one of the young-folk organizations the members of which have specially shown their appreciation of Mrs. Morgan's devotion and kindness).

No. 4 on the program was unique in its conception and was effected with the grace and courtesy that have always characterized the young ladies of our High School Glee Club. The scene represented a spelling bee, the teacher being Miss Helen Bowen. The words "efficient," "thorough," "prompt," "jolly," "helpful," and "sympathetic" were presented for competition. To each of these words the pupils carefully spelled "M-R-S. M-O-R-G-A-N" and the teacher replied "Correct." The last word was "appreciation," which was spelled: "S. C. H. S.—St. Cloud High School Glee Club." This number was well applauded and was one of the best "stunts" ever performed in our town.

No. 5 also was a specialty, and it originated with Mrs. Frost and was called "ring-around-a-rosy." In this the representatives of several of our associations took part. Mrs. Frost represented St. Luke's Mission, of which Mrs. Morgan has been the faithful organist since her arrival here; S. W. Porter, the Red Cross; Mrs. C. K. Hendrix, the Woman's Improvement Club; Dr. Foster, the Baptist Church choir; Rev. N. W. Beauchamp, the Veterans' Association; Mrs. A. G. Fowler, the Presbyterian church; and Miss Anna Rode, the St. Cloud High School Glee Club. Each association presented Mrs. Morgan with an envelope, each bearing a design appropriate to the occasion, and also a motto, and to each was attached a colored ribbon. Each ring was placed on a finger, intending to represent that the labor done for the several associations was done largely with the fingers on the piano. The envelopes contained the sum of $30.

A speech of thanks was made by Mrs. Morgan at this point, she reciting her arrival in this city and how subsequently she had made many close friends, from whom she regretted to part, but that St. Cloud always would retain a warm spot in her heart.

Followed two musical selections by the young ladies of the Glee Club, with accompaniment by Mrs. Morgan; also two classical selections on the violin by Prof. Sampson.

The entertainment was closed with singing "The End of a Perfect Day" by Miss Jane Warner, and it certainly was a fitting closure for one of the very best gatherings ever held in this city. Miss Warner has served the Baptist church here as organist thru many years and is the first person in the town for whom Mrs. Morgan played as accompanist after her arrival here. Since that time they have been good friends.

Members of the Woman's Relief Corps supplied the seats for the occasion. The Eastern Star provided the refreshments, which were excellent in both quality and quantity. Mrs. Mosher, the obliging hostess of the New St. Cloud hotel, gave the "run" of that hostelry for the reception. To all of these, the thanks of the many associations who participated are due.

SEND-OFF TO THE DOOLITTLE LASSIES.

A surprise party lately was given at the New St. Cloud hotel to the very popular Misses Doolittle, the three of whom have so faithfully taught in our public schools thru the last several school terms.

The attendance was large, being comprised mostly of young folks, who went to enjoy a good time and to show their appreciation for the departing three teachers.

The evening was devoted largely to games and other amusements, and an elaborate luncheon was served in connection. Prof. N. B. Bullard and Guy S. Morgan delivered speeches.

Many of our citizens regret to know that these young women are leaving our city for other fields of endeavor. They have made many warm friends here, not only among their pupils, but among the parents of the latter also. They have been heart and soul of many of the entertainments of the younger set in our community.

They carry with them our very best wishes for their future success, and also the assurance that St. Cloud long will cherish memory of them.

It will be some time, at least several weeks, before the St. Cloud Ice factory again is in operation. The plant is being thoroughly overhauled and repaired and also greatly enlarged and improved. Nearly all of the plant's old machinery is being junked.

One of the benefits that St. Cloud's people will obtain from this renovation and improvement will be a better grade of ice—ice about three as good as that heretofore manufactured at this establishment. The ice product here has been what is known as "soft" ice; that is, it was not frozen hard enough. The ice that will be manufactured when the factory resumes operations will be approximately three times as good as the former product, because it will be frozen three as hard. Thus where a customer ordered ice once a day, the better grade of ice will make it necessary to order only once every two days, and this, too, by ordering the same quantity as heretofore. The ice will last longer. These are statements made to the Tribune by Lieut. Entrikin, who is superintending the renovation and enlargement of the factory.

ORGANIZATION MEETING HELD MONDAY, WHEN STATE BANK EXAMINER CHECKED BUSINESS OF NEW FINANCIAL INSTITUTION—COMPTROLLER TELEGRAPHS AUTHORIZATION.

The PEOPLE'S BANK OF ST. CLOUD opened its doors for business on Tuesday morning, following the organization meeting of its stockholders—held Monday afternoon, while R. R. Gray, State bank examiner, was in St. Cloud to check up the subscriptions to stock in the new bank, and after a telegram had been received (at 5:30 o'clock of Monday afternoon) from the State Comptroller authorizing the new bank to start business.

Tuesday there was a rush to see who would be the first depositor, this distinction going to Comrade O. J. Demmon, who was followed by several other persons who were enthusiastic to be numbered among the first depositors.

The bank has been experiencing a good business since the doors opened, Tuesday, altho no public announcement had been made that the bank was open for business until those made in the Tribune today.

Monday morning Mr. Gray arrived from Tampa, where he was engaged in his work of examining banks, having been telegraphed by the Comptroller to come to St. Cloud for the purpose of checking up the preliminary of the bank organization here. After counting the cash paid in for capital stock, and after looking to other details, Mr. Gray met with the stockholders, a large majority of whom were present at the afternoon meeting.

The selection of directors, made at preliminary meetings of the stockholders, was ratified, and by-laws were adopted to govern the business of the institution.

After the stockholders' meeting, the directors met, and when they had completed their work, Mr. Gray reported to the Comptroller by wire, with the result that authority to open for business was received by telegraph at 5:30 p. m. the same day.

Who The Stockholders Are.

There were forty-three stockholders when the organization meeting gathered last Monday. Their names follow: E. F. H. Pope, Mrs. M. M. Merrill, Theodore Deschner, David Wistman, Jesse D. Harris, Gehue Rowland, Isaac Wistman, Mrs. Sarah Penmore, Frank B. Munsell, Wm. L. Fenimore, Mrs. Emma Shew, Mrs. May Puckett-Foster, J. I. Shaw, H. H. Mason, Mrs. H. H. Mason, Mrs. F. E. Deschner, Leon D. Lamb, Mrs. J. A. Watson, B. F. Otto, Mrs. Dorothea Jaques.

New Bank's Officers.

President—Dr. F. F. H. Pope. First Vice-President—Levi Shambow. Second Vice-President—W. R. Godwin. Cashier—E. C. Meek.

Directors—F. F. H. Pope, W. R. Godwin, Levi Shambow, E. C. Meek, A. F. Bass, T. A. Horn, and J. M. Randall.

Comrade Pope, president of the new People's Bank of St. Cloud, came to this city more than eight years ago and has been identified with all progressive movements for the development of this city. He extensively owns property in St. Cloud and has large interests in his native State—Ohio. He is well known to all St. Cloud people, and being a man of rare business ability, unquestioned integrity, and of wide experience in financial matters, his presidency assures the stockholders and depositors of the new bank a safe and conservative business management.

Comrade Levi Shambow, the first vice-president, came to St. Cloud when this city was in its swaddling clothes, moving from Montana to the South. Thru a number of years he was one of the extensive stockmen in the Northwest, besides having other business interests. He acquired considerable property in St. Cloud and always has been numbered among the progressive citizens of the veterans' colony. He is well known to all the residents of this city, and his ability as a business man is unquestioned. His advice in the management of the bank assures that institution will add to the stability and progressiveness of its career.

W. R. Godwin, the second vice-president, is a native Florida Cracker and is one of Osceola county's most extensive cattle raisers. He now is one of the three members of the Board of Public Instruction for Osceola county. He has lived at St. Cloud since the first house was built here, in 1900, and always has been known as one of the most reliable business men in the county.

E. C. Meek, the new bank's cashier, came to St. Cloud about two years ago from Indiana, Pa., to close up the estate of his father, the late J. W. Meek, who had been a resident of St. Cloud several years. He has had years of banking experience in Pennsylvania, and until lately has been employed in the Florida National Bank, at Jacksonville, from which he resigned to accept the position of cashier in St. Cloud's new bank. Mr. Meek will be found one of the most courteous men in business in the county, and he will give the closest attention to every detail of the new bank's business.

Bank Owned And Controlled By Home People.

That the people who have organized the new People's Bank of St. Cloud have the greatest faith in the future of this city, and that every section of the nation has contributed to the development of St. Cloud since its inception, in 1900, can be judged from the number of different States represented by the stockholders in the new bank, each of whom owns property in St. Cloud and Osceola county, many of them extensively so.

Comrade J. M. Randall came to St. Cloud from Gerings, Neb., about eight years ago, and is a member of the G. A. R. and other organizations that have contributed so much to the welfare of this city.

Comrade T. J. Horn, one of the directors, came here eight years ago from Ohio.

A. F. Bass a director, is a native Florida Cracker, is chairman of the Osceola county Board of Commissioners, and is one of the most extensive cattle raisers in this section of Florida.

Comrade O. J. Demmon came to St. Cloud from Lusk, Wyo.

W. B. Makinson came to Osceola county many years ago from Maryland and owns the flourishing hardware business of the W. B. Makinson Co., located in St. Cloud and Klemm.

Josh H. Ferguson and Mrs. Susan Ferguson came to St. Cloud nine years ago from Kentucky, and the former has been most successful as manager of the H. C. Stanford Co. store in St. Cloud.

H. Clay Stanford has been a resident of Osceola county about thirty years and at one time represented this county in the State House of Representatives. He is the owner of the Stanford stores in St. Cloud and Kissimmee and at all times has been found among the progressive business men who have contributed to every movement for the development and betterment of Osceola county.

H. C. Hartley came to St. Cloud from South Carolina and is the proprietor of the Hartley hardware store, on Pennsylvania avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Peed came to St. Cloud about a year ago from Kentucky and are engaged in a grocery business at the western side of the city.

N. E. Ide and Walter Ide hail from West Virginia and are owners of the Ide grocery store, on New York avenue.

C. A. Carson is numbered among the pioneer residents of this county and is the most successful banker in Osceola county, being now president of the State Bank of Kissimmee. He has represented this county in the State Legislature as Senator and he owns property of value in St. Cloud.

Comrade Willis Rogers is well known among the members of the Grand Army of the Republic here as a good and progressive citizen who is ready at all times to aid in the development of St. Cloud.

Comrade and Mrs. J. A. Watson are from — and are well-known owners of property here.

Mrs. Dorothea Jaques formerly was a resident of Norwood, Ohio, and came to St. Cloud several years ago. She conducts a boarding-house and owns some valuable property in this city. She has been identified with many movements for the development of St. Cloud.

W. P. Tyson is a native Floridian and a successful farmer.

Theodore and Mrs. Deschner have been active citizens in St. Cloud many years—he from Oregon, she from Iowa.

David Wistman and Isaac Wistman have been property owners to some extent in St. Cloud some time.

J. D. Harris is from Oklahoma and has served as a member of the City Council of St. Cloud at one time. He owns considerable property here and is a business man of ability.

Gehue Rowland boasts of being a Georgia Cracker and is one of the most successful young business men of St. Cloud, being the proprietor of the New York meat market, on New York avenue.

Comrade and Mrs. W. L. Fenimore have been residents of St. Cloud many years and always have been numbered among our most progressive and most respected citizens.

J. I. and Mrs. Shaw came here from Nebraska and own considerable property here.

Comrade Frank B. Munsell owns

Rev. C. W. Duke, of Tampa Pays Visit to St. Cloud Baptist Church

At the invitation of Dr. M. Puckett-Foster and the trustees of the First Baptist church of St. Cloud, Rev. Dr. C. W. Duke, pastor of the Central Baptist church of Tampa, Fla., visited our city on Thursday last.

That evening he preached an eloquent sermon on the subject of "The By-stander Standing By." The music was by Mrs. Vernon Ellis of Kissimmee (cornetist) and the choir of the Baptist church, assisted by Prof. Sampson (violinist).

Friday a dinner was tendered to Rev. Mr. Duke at the club pavilion on the lake front, at about which 100 people were served. Soon afterward a baptismal service was conducted, Mrs. J. O. Vreeland, Mrs. E. N. Rojanbaugh, Mrs. Emil Graf, and H. W. Corl being immersed. This was followed by a sermon on "Baptism and the Lord's Supper."

At 7:30 o'clock that evening Dr.

Duke again preached to a large and appreciative congregation, his subject being "The Key to Paradise." Before leaving, the same evening, for his home, Dr. Duke expressed himself as being highly pleased with his visit here and with the many courtesies extended to him. It is sincerely hoped this, his first visit, is only the first of many more.

To Dr. M. Puckett-Foster, who has been supplying the pulpit at the local Baptist church many months, great credit should be given for the marked increase in the membership of that church.

Last Friday, four new members were admitted by baptism and four others by letter. Since Dr. Foster's arrival in St. Cloud, eighteen new members have been admitted to this church. Also, the weekly prayer meetings and the Sunday services are more largely attended than ever before in the history of our city.

Meeker Buys Half Block on Tenth Street; To Build Automobile Shop

A. T. Meeker has purchased all the land between Tenth street and the railroad and between Florida avenue and Ohio avenue and shortly will begin the erection of a garage and an automobile supply-house on the half block of land included in the purchase.

Mr. Meeker has been operating the Progressive garage, on Pennsylvania avenue, for the three years last past, but his desire to enlarge his quarters and his business led to his purchase last week of the land above described, and he will prepare for relocation on the Dixie highway, which passes thru the city in Tenth street.

Plans for a building suitable for the needs of Mr. Meeker's enlarging business are being gone over, and at a date in the very near future building operations are to be started for the erection of the necessary new quarters.

Leon D. Lamb made the sale of this property.

St. Cloud Man Gets Bryan to Put Flag Law Thru Florida Legislature

Florida has a new flag law. It provides what uses shall not be made of the national banner.

A St. Cloud resident is the man who drafted the measure and had it presented to the Legislature.

He enlisted the interest and good offices of Representative N. C. Bryan of Osceola county, who took charge of the measure in the Legislature and had it enacted into a law.

W. H. Reagan, a comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic, is the responsible person.

Comrade Reagan has in times past objected to any person or any organization placing its name, lettering of any sort, etc., on the national flag, and he has publicly declared his objections thus on several occasions.

Some of his acquaintances have not agreed with him, however, and Comrade Reagan has, in a measure, "stolen a march" on those holding opinions antagonistic to his views. He has had his opinions made a part of the laws of property in this county and has been one of the active members of the G. A. R. since his arrival here, many years ago.

Mrs. M. Puckett-Foster is manager of the Citizens' Realty Company and is acting pastor of the local Baptist congregation. From the time she came here, from Indiana, to make her home she has been an untiring worker in every movement for the good of the community. She probably is recognized as the foremost business woman in St. Cloud.

Comrade and Mrs. H. H. Mason are well and popularly known among the G. A. R. circles of our city and are interested in the development of this section.

Leon D. Lamb is a son of Comrade Peter Lamb and came from Washington, D. C. Thru several years he has been one of the most active and prosperous real-estate agents in St. Cloud.

B. F. Otto is from Harmony, Pa., and is related to the bank's cashier, E. C. Meek.

Mrs. A. V. Johnson came to Osceola county eight years ago from Kentucky, and during the three years last has made her home in St. Cloud. She is the vice-president of the St. Cloud Tribune Company.

Comrade and Mrs. B. G. Merrill are numbered among the most substantial and well-known citizens of St. Cloud. They are from California, and have been in St. Cloud since this city was an infant. Comrade Merrill formerly had interests in and resided in Central America. They own considerable property in this city.

the State of Florida, and they will be observed, or some one or ones will get into trouble.

At a meeting of veterans in St. Cloud on Flag day (June 14) Comrade Reagan read the new law and made an eloquent address on the history of Old Glory. The new law reads:

"A BILL TO BE ENTITLED 'AN ACT TO PROTECT THE FLAG FROM DESECRATION'."

"Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

"Section 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons, lodge, firm, corporation, or secret society to place upon or attach any words, letters, figures, or pictures on any flag known as the Stars and Stripes, to carry or display the same so decorated in the State of Florida.

"Section 2. That any person or persons representing any lodge, firm, corporation, or individual displaying the Stars and Stripes in any public place in the State of Florida with any words, letters, figures, or picture attached to the same, or shall mutilate the same in any manner, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, on conviction, shall be punished as for a misdemeanor.

"Section 3. That it shall be the duty of all sheriffs and civil officers in this State to see that this act is fully enforced.

"Section 4. That this act shall take effect upon its passage and approval by the Governor.

"Passed, and signed by the Governor May 20, 1919."

A. & N. U. WOMEN'S GOOD WORK AT CEMETERY.

Most of those of our citizens who have seen the new arched guide sign that now adorns the entrance to Mount Peace cemetery, near St. Cloud, have expressed appreciation for this improvement. Some still are not aware who have been the guilty and responsible persons for this betterment.

This is the good work of the good women of the Army and Navy Union Auxiliary of St. Cloud. Some time ago a delegation of them appeared before the City Council and asked permission to erect this sign. Permission was immediately granted. The councilmen further made a present out of their private purses to help the project.

The carpenter work was done by F. F. Clark. The ornamental and pleasing lettering and designing are the grateful gifts of former Councilman John I. Cummings. The bill for materials, etc., was defrayed entirely by the Army and Navy Union women. Comrade Dougherty "drafted" four helpers to aid him in erecting the sign. The whole expense amounted to something more than $17.

Trustees For the St. Cloud School District To Be Elected June 26th

Thursday, June 26, a special election will be held in St. Cloud for the purpose of selecting three trustees for the St. Cloud school district (to serve two years) and to determine the amount of taxes to be levied in the special school subdistrict for the same period.

The election call is printed elsewhere in this issue of the Tribune, in which J. H. Ferguson, L. E. Hedrick, and T. N. Farr are named as inspectors of election and J. I. Cummings as clerk.

The election is to be held in the city hall on the 26th. All voters qualified vote in the St. Cloud district—which includes all voters registered for the COUNTY and living east of the Sugar Belt canal and east to Ashton and south of the lake to Canoe creek—are entitled to vote for whoever they wish for school trustees, as there is no manner provided by which any person can qualify as a candidate other than by announcing that he will serve in the office if elected to it.

The rate of taxation has been 3 mills for this district, but voters are urged to write "1 mill" on the ballot in voting this year for the tax levy for the ensuing two years, as recent changes in the State law permit a change in the levying of county taxes for schools so as to require only a 1-mill tax in this district.

The incumbent trustees are C. F. Johnson, N. L. Edwards, and William Hall, all of St. Cloud.

The three persons receiving the largest vote will be elected trustees.

There is no salary nor expense fund for those who hold these offices, and there are four rural schools outside St. Cloud that are under the charge of the trustees for this district.

Any matter pertaining to the schools in this district is looked after by the trustees, but all employment of teachers and all payments of bills are done by the county school board. The trustees find plenty to do, but there is no remuneration for their time and labor other than the satisfaction of aiding in bettering the local school system.

The three trustees now serving have stated they will serve again if elected, but that they do not deem it necessary to make a campaign for the places.

CLAUDE F. JOHNSON Editor and Owner

LAND HOGS LIKE THE DOG IN THE MANGER.

An article in the Estero Eagle asserts that the development of the Immokalee section, in Lee county, has been retarded because large land companies hold many thousands of acres of land and refuse to sell any of it in small tracts to home seekers.

This is known to be true of Lee county; and it is known to be true of several other Florida counties also.

Perhaps the holders of large land tracts about Immokalee have prevented the railroad from reaching that section long ago, inasmuch as the Eagle thinks building the railroad would change the policy of the land companies about selling small tracts of land.

Did it ever occur to you, Mr. Florida Citizen—

That most of the big land companies holding lands in Florida have been formed by officers or "big men" in railroad companies?

That they "bought" the land from the same railroad companies they officiated—or from themselves, in other words?

That these lands in nearly every case were GIVEN to these railroad companies by the State of Florida?

That millions of acres have thus been GIVEN by the people to the men (or their heirs) who now greedily refuse to sell the land to the people—or who, if they do sell it ask prices for it that discourage its purchase and settlement?

Besides which—these railroad men have been permitted to exact from the people freight rates probably higher than those charged by the Union.

In other words, the people have paid for the railroad and will continue to pay "going and coming."

While this species of separating the people from their land and money has been rampant in Florida, it is a "graft" not peculiar to this State. It has been quite as rampant in some States whose inhabitants flatter themselves that they are ever so much more "civilized" and progressive than are Floridians.

Yet some Americans have the gall to demand that the Russians, Hungarians, Germans, etc., adopt our idiotic and wasteful system of politics and government and business!

The Creator made land for the USE of ALL the people—not for a medium thru which land hogs shall pile up speculative fortunes.

OUR GOVERNMENT'S FARM-LOAN BUSINESS.

It is estimated that the Federal Government's farm-loan system now is doing about 15 per cent of all the farm-loan business in the United States.

Why not 50 per cent or more—instead of only 15 per cent?

Because our farm-loan system is neither properly arranged nor properly handled or managed.

There is something wrong with the regulations or the management, or both, when the farmers of an agricultural community such as Hastings, Fla., are compelled to disband their tentative farm-loan organization in discouragement because of the pittance offered them as loans on their properties by the Farm-Loan Board's officials.

The average Government official expends Government money as freely as a Negro when buying ships, boots, provisions, and other supplies for the Government. Such expenditures help the "business interests."

Mr. Government Official is as cautious as a canny Scot, however, when it comes to expending or lending Government money in enterprises designed to help the people to help themselves—because such enterprises nearly always interfere with the profits of the "business interests."

This is not a condition peculiar to officials of the Wilson administration. It is a "disease" inherited and kept alive thru a long series of national administrations—some of them acclaimed for their "patriotism" and their love for the people.

An honest-to-goodness farm-loan business conducted by the Government would play hob with the mortgage-loan bankers and other concerns that lend money on farming property.

CANDIDATE HULLEY. LINK BETWEEN WARRING CAPITAL AND LABOR—MAYBE.

Politics indeed makes strange bedfellows!

Behold Lincoln W. Hulley as president of John B. Stetson University (DeLand)—an institution endowed with money John B. Stetson made in the hat business and whose hat manufacturing concern has achieved a national reputation as a hater, balter, and fighter of labor unions!

Behold also Lincoln W. Hulley as a Senator in the Florida Legislature and as the Senatorial champion of laws desired by the labor unions!

Behold said Lincoln W. Hulley now announcing himself as a candidate for the Governorship of Florida in next year's Democratic primaries!

Can it be possible that the labor-union leaders have forgotten that Stetson made paupers out of several thousand Danbury hatters only several years ago?

Perhaps Senator-President Hulley is not concerned about whence came the endowment money for his university?

Perhaps, again, he may find himself out of a job as a college president? That is, if history teaches anything in this connection by what has happened in other colleges in other States?

Or perhaps Governor Hulley would not be as strong a "friend to labor" as Senator Hulley has been? In other words, speaking both alliteratively and frankly, he might be a lemon for labor.

Or mayhap he is the reconciling link that is to lead the warring lions of capital and lands of labor to lie down or go together in peaceful pastures or pursuits?

LINING UP FOR NEXT YEAR'S FLORIDA POLITICS.

Catts wants to take Fletcher's place in the United States Senate.

Swearingin, now Attorney-General, wants to take Catts' place as Governor.

Worth Trammell (brother of Senator Trammell and now one of Swearingin's assistants) wants to take Swearingin's place as Attorney-General.

Catts appointed Andrews to the judgeship in the new Seventeenth judicial circuit, thus getting him out of Trammell's way in the race for Attorney-General.

It looks as if Catts is arranging a Trammell-Swearingin-Catts combination of forces to carry "the ring" into power.

Everybody knows how strong Park Trammell was when he ran for the United States Senate. It is quite natural he should help brother Worth become Attorney-General—a job Park once held himself, before he became Governor of United States Senator.

Cary Hardin says he is out to fight "ring politics." It seems a sure-enough ring has been formed to give him battle.

According to the provisions of a bill enacted during the recent session of the Florida Legislature, the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Company must build that West Coast connection between Perry and Gainesville or forfeit the charter of the Tallahassee Southern Railroad Company. This would give Tampa and the West Coast that short cut to Atlanta, Montgomery, and the Western States without compelling our West Coast traffic to go across Florida, thru Jacksonville, and then turn northward and westward for its destinations. One year to Perry and two years to get connected at Gainesville is the time limit set.

When a man knows he is a fool, he knows more than some people give him credit for.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

PRENTIS-COWGER MARRIAGE ON TUESDAY NIGHT.

Tuesday evening, at the First Baptist church of Kissimmee, Miss Lillian Mary Prentis and Mr. Alger Earle Cowger were wedded by Rev. Mr. Summers, assisted by Rev. O. B. Falls, the latter being pastor of the Baptist church. Rev. Mr. Summers is engaged in religious work in the army camp near Jacksonville, but last year he was pastor of the Kissimmee Methodist church, of which Mr. Cowger was a member during Mr. Summers' pastorate there.

Promptly at 9:15 o'clock Tuesday evening an orchestra comprising Miss Inez Carson, Mrs. S. H. Bullock, Miss Mary Tiller, and Mr. Harry Edwards, rendered an appropriate prelude, which was followed by a vocal solo, "Because," rendered by Miss Ethel Robertson.

When the strains of the wedding march were begun, the bridal party entered from two parts of the auditorium, the groom preceded by his best man, followed by the ministers, entering from the pastor's study, while the bridemaids, the maid of honor, and the bride entered from the main door of the auditorium. The young couple met at the altar, where the beautiful Methodist marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Summers and the concluding invocation was rendered by Rev. Mr. Falls.

Mr. Roy Prentis, brother of the bride, was best man, while Miss Muriel Prentis, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Misses Helen Bass, Orpha Rose, Ethel Gilbert, and Carrie Hathaway were bridemaids.

The beautiful auditorium was artistically decorated with ferns, palms, and bunches of pink and red roses, dotted here and there with striped lilies, and the altar was a bower of beautiful floral designs. Blue-ribbon bows were tied to the end seats down the aisles thru which the wedding party entered and left the church.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. J. W. Prentis of Kissimmee and in the past year was one of the teachers in the public schools at Kissimmee. She is an untiring church worker and is one of the most popular young ladies in this county.

The groom is a son of Mrs. M. A. Cowger of Kissimmee and is one of the St. Cloud Tribune's staff, the only recently he returned from service in the United States navy, having received his discharge several months after the armistice was signed, last November. Mr. Cowger is one of the most promising young men in this section.

Both bride and groom have a host of friends who join the Tribune in extending congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowger will be at home at Seventh street and New York avenue, in St. Cloud, Fla., after July 1.

The Peoples Bank of St. Cloud

DESIRE TO ANNOUNCE that St. Cloud's new financial institution is open for business, authority having been given by the State Comptroller on Monday after the visit of a State Bank Examiner, who attended the stockholders organization.

THE ORGANIZATION of The Peoples Bank of St. Cloud is a result of a desire of the progressive citizens to have a financial institution conducted by home people for the benefit of the St. Cloud section, and we are ready to handle any matter of general banking that may be required.

Our capital stock of $25,000.00 is owned by citizens of St. Cloud and people who own properties in St. Cloud, and every movement for the development of this section will have our co-operation to the extent which conservative banking methods will permit.

We invite the accounts of every resident of St. Cloud and of Osceola County, and assure the people that the most courteous treatment will be accorded every customer regardless of the size of the account.

Call in and inspect our new home at Twelfth and New York avenue.

This invitation is extended on behalf of our stockholders, as follows:

Misses Lottie, Fleeda, and Jessie Doolittle and Evadne Harris and Ahna Rode will leave next Monday evening for Jacksonville, whence they will sail via steamship to New York. From New York, the Misses Doolittle will go to Atlas, Ohio, where they will stay thru the summer. Misses Harris and Rode will go to Brownsville, Ill. The Misses Doolittle were teachers in the St. Cloud public school during the year just ended, while Misses Harris and Rode are two of the graduating class of the High School.

James Sage has been appointed to take a school census of Osceola county preparatory to the State-wide compulsory school-attendance law being put into effect. He will start this work in a short time and will complete it before the schools are opened, in September, when every child less than 14 years old must be sent to school. The latest Legislature made the school-attendance law State-wide in application. Within the two years last past it was applicable in only such school districts as had adopted the local-option compulsory-attendance law.

Comrade P. J. Holmes, Ninth and Tennessee, is leaving for a visit at his former home in Massachusetts. He will return with October to St. Cloud. In our "civil fuss" of sixty-odd years ago he served as an engineer in the Union navy, enlisting from Massachusetts. Almost 76 years old, he never has been confined to his home day by sickness. Dr. Chunn pulled him out of an attack of cholera morbus a short time ago, but he was out of the house in less than a day. That was the nearest he ever came to being really sick. Carver, Mass., about four miles from Boston, is where he will stay thru the summer.

The shadow of trouble usually is blacker than the trouble itself.

Bad news judiciously distributed has cost the citrus growers of Florida hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The fruit speculators are most judicious distributors of bad news in regard to probable demand and prices for grapefruit and oranges.

About this time of year, as the old almanac weather predictions used to say, they may be expected to start rumors that tend to cause uninformed grove owners to lose faith in the value of their growing crops.

Then in a little while the speculative buyers will move over Florida and cash in on the bad news they have put into cir-ulation by purchasing fruit on the trees for less than it will be worth at shipping time.

The growers who are members of the Florida Citrus Exchange maintain a sales organization that keeps them posted at all seasons as to conditions in the fruit market and always are in position to get the real facts regarding future prospects.

They invite other growers to join them and save any money heretofore lost through fear stimulated by the bad news the speculators have inspired, the ten years' record of the Florida Citrus Exchange assuring a square deal to all who become affiliated with it.

Join the Florida Citrus Exchange, know the truth and profit by the knowledge. For full information about membership, write, wire, 'phone or call on

CELEBRATION OF COMRADE A. D. DANIELS' BIRTHDAY.

From 3 to 6 p. m. Tuesday, June 17, about seventy-five of the neighbors and other friends of A. B. Daniels met at his home, on Maryland avenue, and surprised him with their presence and felicitations in commemoration of his eightieth birthday.

The afternoon was enjoyably devoted to several pleasures, among them being excellent refreshments of ice cream and cake.

Mr. Daniels' friends brought to him ten birthday cakes, a thirty-five pound watermelon, grapefruit, oranges, candy, and numerous articles in token of their esteem, as well as letters and post cards and gold money from out-of-town friends and relatives.

D. Homer Jennings presented and read the following poem written by him in honor of Comrade Daniels and dedicated to the latter and entitled

THY NATAL DAY.

Comrade, on this, thy natal day,
To thee we chaf a token bring—
Each gift a monument of love,
A jewel rare, worthy a king.
No golden scepter for thy brow,
To rule or taint your native land,
But gems of love we tender thee,
For your true worth—a manly man,
Summer roses and the bluebells
Lend their fragrance, while songbirds bring
Sunshine to your soul, in gladness,
While we join our voices and sing
To them that rule our destiny.
All hail, all praise, then blessed one!
To thee we give the best we have,
Come weal or woe, thy will be done,
I bring you not silver, nor gold,
Nor flowers worn in a bouquet,
But give you from my pen such as
My feeble mind would have me say.

His guests, when departing, wished Comrade Daniels many happy repetitions of the day.

A STORY THAT GRIPS

The Triple Arrow bandits did not want modern improvements in the border country surrounding Puma City; so they tried to terrorize and run away the land-reclamation company's workmen. It was then that Go-Get-Em Garringer was put on their trail—and things began to happen.

In this Pathe Program play, which will be shown at the Palm theater on June 21, there are all the elements of tender and appealing romance, rough and strenuous action, deadly peril, and tense situations that hold the spectator breathless. It is a swift Western drama and has as its principals beautiful Helena Chadwick, recently made leading woman for Douglas Fairbanks, and Franklin Farnum, one of the most popular heroic actors of the screen drama.

The story, which is by John B. Clymer, has been adapted to the screen by Frank Smith and directed by Ernest Traxler, who has established a reputation as an expert on such Western subjects. Authors, actors, and directors make for a perfect presentation of the swiftly moving melodrama of bad men, hidden intrigues, perilous rides, and the menace that lurks in the darkness.

Miss Chadwick has a part that calls for high emotional expression, and it is her performance which adds much beauty and charm to the rough and primitive atmosphere of this gripping border story.

In landing at Tampa recently an aviator from Carlstrom field had to turn aside to avoid striking a woman and a child who were in the center of the landing field and who became confused at the approach of the airplane. The machine struck uneven ground and partly turned over, receiving damage and lacerating the aviator's nose.

About a week ago an old steel casket was unearthed in digging a grave in the old cemetery at Tallahassee. Apparently it had been buried more than a century, and its shape was that of a human body, and it was elaborately filled with dust, excepting some bones, and must have been that of a child, as the casket was only five feet long. The Spanish inscription, obliterated by rust, was covered by heavy plate glass. None of the city's old records or charts afford a clue to when or by whom the casket was interred.

Marriage adds either to a man's happiness or to his misery.
"Let me take your check," is the most popular after-dinner speech.

If a man has neither friends nor enemies, he has lived in vain.

The Blue and the Gray

By the flow of the winding river, whence the fleets of iron have fled;
Where the blades of the grave-grass quiver, asleep in the ranks of the dead;
Under the sod and dew, waiting the judgment day.
Under the one, the Blue; under the other, the Gray.

There, in the robings of glory, those in the gloom of defeat,
Each in his battle blood gory, in the dusk of eternity meet,
Under the sod and the dew, waiting the judgment day.
Under the laurel, the Blue; under the willow, the Gray.

From the silence of sorrowful hours the desolate mourners go,
Lovingly laden with flowers alike for the friend and the foe
Under the sod and the dew, waiting the judgment day.
Under the roses, the Blue; under the lilies, the Gray.

Sadly, but not with upbraiding, the glorious deed was done;
In the gloom of the years that are fading, no braver battle was won,
Under the sod and the dew, waiting the judgment day.

And thus with an equal splendor the summer's Sun rays fall
With a touch impartially tender on blossoms blooming for all
Under the sod and the dew, waiting the judgment day.
Brothered with gold, the Blue; mellowed with gold, the Gray.

And so when the summer calletth on forest and field of grain,
With an equal murmur falleth the cooling drip of the rain,
Under the sod and the dew, waiting the judgment day.
Wet with the rain, the Blue; wet with the rain, the Gray.

NNo more shall the war clouds sever nor the winding rivers be red,
They banish our anger forever when they laurel the graves of our dead,
Under the sod and the dew, waiting the judgment day.
Love and tears for the Blue; tears and love for the Gray.

THIS BARN GIVES IMMENSE STORAGE

Ground Floor Will House 28 Cows and Six Horses.

IS TWO STABLES IN ONE

Barn of This Type Must Be Used Before Its Many Conveniences and Economies Can Be Thoroughly Appreciated.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 187 Prairie Avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose three-cent stamp for reply.

Better farm methods require better buildings, not necessarily expensive ones, but buildings that are well planned and properly adapted to the work for which they are intended. A farm building should be first a property saver, second a labor saver. Farm buildings may be considered in a sense as a necessary expense, but on the other hand they should be considered in the light of an investment.

A farm barn is the farmer's factory. It is a building in which he converts raw materials into manufactured products. In a dairy stable he takes cheap feeds and manufactures them into expensive cream and butter. In feeding stables and hogpens he manufactures high-priced breeding stock as well as good beef, mutton and pork out of cheap grain and cheaper roughage.

It makes a great difference in the profits whether this barn factory is so constructed that the animals may be comfortable enough to make the best possible use of the feeds given them. Profits are also seriously affected by the labor problem. Barns and stables may be so arranged as to conserve labor or to waste labor.

In selecting a plan the farmer himself must be the judge of what he needs. The kind of farm building best adapted to one part of the country is not suitable for another. Two farms adjoining need different buildings, because the kind of farming differs with individuals. One farmer makes a great mistake by blindly copying what another farmer uses to advantage. Every building requires careful study to fit it into environments of the farm and the peculiarities of the man.

In building, by all means secure the services of the best mechanics within reach. Their wages are a little higher, but they seldom spoil material, and the job is almost always more satisfactory in the end.

Judgment is necessary in buying materials; generally speaking, the best is the cheapest, but it often happens that a good second grade answers the purpose just as well, while effecting considerable saving in cash.

Farmers may save a great deal by getting ready weeks, or months before building. Putting up even a small building runs into a great deal of work. Often the time required is more than twice as much as the estimates. By having everything on the ground confusion is avoided, as well as the unnecessary expense of getting things together in a great hurry, often at an inconvenient season.

This cow barn is 34 feet wide by 80 feet long and will accommodate 28 cows. There is also space for several horses.

The manure gutters and floor for cleaning is in the center, so that in this stable the cows face outward. This arrangement makes it easier to remove the manure and the plan is liked by some dairymen.

The balloon roof construction makes it possible to store a great deal of feed overhead. It leaves a clear space for the horse fork, which works freely from one end of the building to the other. Roofs like this are comparatively new, but ones built were not strong enough to stand heavy winds, and some of them blew down, but there has been no such trouble recently. If properly braced each side forms a truss and the two trusses meet together at the peak.

There are hay chutes at the sides for putting down hay and bedding and there is a stairway for convenience in getting up and down.

To help out at feeding time there should be a silage carrier to run from the silo down the different alleys to distribute the feed. If a farmer wants to know the number of miles traveled about the stable it is only necessary to figure the number of trips and steps taken each feeding time, then multiply this by the number of feeds during the winter. If every dairyman would do this the location of some silos would be changed. The amount of travel will surprise those who have never thought about it. This is one reason for placing the silo at the side.

The manure alley in the center is wide enough so it is not necessary to have a pile of manure outside of the stable. Manure is worth a great deal more when it is drawn immediately from the stable to the field. This barn looks well and it is a good practical barn. A barn of this type must be used before its many conveniences and economies can be thoroughly appreciated. In effect, it is two stables in one. The horse barn, as should be the rule, is shut off from the dairy stable by tight partitions and solid doors. Room is provided in the tremendous mow for the storage of sufficient forage to last through an ordinary winter season. Any surplus hay product, however, may be stored to excellent advantage in a hay shed. The plan for this barn may be modified, if desired, by creating more space for horses, or by eliminating the horse barn feature entirely and making a dairy barn of the entire structure.

BELIEVED BY MANY BRITISH

Legend Connects People of the "Tight Little Island" With the Lost Tribes of Israel.

There is a small group in England who believe the British are the lost ten tribes. Victoria is said to have been interested in the idea that the reason for her being crowned in a chair under which lay the Stone of Destiny may have stretched directly back to the Son of Isaac. The legend is that before the Scottish kings were crowned on this stone it was in Ireland, whither it was taken in the fifth century before Christ. This was the stone used by Jacob as a pillow.

Norman Hapgood, in Leslie's Weekly, has the following to say regarding the subject:

"The theory that the British are the lost ten tribes has two coinciding lines. One brings to Britain the tribes never restored after the Captivity. It is the earlier captivity that is taken to affect the British population as a whole. The ancestors in this case would be Israel, the northern branch of the Jews. The other line of the legend deals with a later period when the southern branch of the Jews were scattered. There being no male descendants, the crown went through the daughters. Ultimately these turned up in Ireland, and Victoria was descended from them through the Irish kings. At one time a member of the house of lords and a colonial bishop of the Church of England were included among the believers.

"The principle of these legends is the same that causes most legends to find the nucleus of any given nation in some wanderer from Troy. Before history became in any way exact, these attributions, both religious and heroic, flourished everywhere."

An Undefined Expression.
"Is your place within walking distance of the cars?"
"I dunno," answered Farmer Corn-tassel. "How far kin you walk?"
